

Presidential elections in the Philippines

conclusion and outlook

Saturday, 18/06/2022 (online)

10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. (CET)

/ 4:00 p.m. - 11:00 p.m. (PST)

On May 9th, the Philippines holds its general elections. People will vote for a new president, a new vice president, 12 senators, 300 congressmen and congresswomen, and 18.000 representatives on the regional and local level. The stakes are high. The candidates compete for the votes of 67,5 millions registered Filipin@ voters.

In June, almost six weeks after the elections and shortly before the institution of the new government we will analyze the elections as well as the online and offline campaigns: For whom did Filipin@s in the Philippines and overseas vote? Which factors influenced the elections? What role did social media play?

In the past years under the presidency of Rodrigo Duterte, the Philippine society at home and abroad has been severely polarized. Will the election results widen social rifts or will they enable new bridges? Can we expect more space for civil society or will it continue to shrink?

Still, the new government has not been introduced. However, what are the prospects for the pandemic- and war-stricken economy? What significance will climate protection, adaptation and sustainable energy have for the new government? How will the new government position itself when it comes to the increasing discrimination against women and the LGBTQ+ community?

On June 18, 2022, the philippinenbüro invites to a webinar to discuss these topics with civil society actors from the Philippines and Germany. We are looking forward to your participation, new perspectives and inspiring talks.

The webinar will mostly be held in English.

A German translation will be provided.

The detailed program will follow soon.
